Collectors' Notices.

Mr. L. C. Ladd, of Surry, has sent us his account, and we will remit him the amount due him.

Mr. C. S. Atwell is calling upon our subscribers in Waldo county.

Mary Walker petitions Congress to regulate the dress of women. We presume there will be a special address from the President on the subject.

There is sure to be one gentleman, at least, who will be a member of the House, the member from the Penobscot and Cornish class. See him. We hope he won't be lame.

The Christian County Fair and exhibition is to be held at Woodstock, N. Y., September 20th. Excursions from all stations on the N. R. railway. $45.00 are offered in premiums.

James Redpath, who began life in this country by engaging with the Free State men who went out to redeem Kansas from border ruffians, is employed in his old age in helping to prepare the memoirs of Jefferson Davis.

We have received the argument of Hon. Henry L. Fahey, of Boston, in favor of a code of Agriculture in Congress, in favor of a national standard, classification and grading of American grains, the matter to be left to the judgment and discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Mr. Nelson, with Nelson, the King of the Turf, and a number of others from his stables, has gone to Indiana, where on fast tracks they enter the colts and colts will be shown to admiring thousands. Maine horse interests will suffer nothing from the exhibition.

Onset, Grange of Vassalboro, has found it necessary to change the date of the dedication of their new hall. It will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 24th, instead of Thursday, the 25th, and several of the prominent officers of the State Grange will be present to participate in the exercises of the occasion.

The Boston Commonwealths, a fine and progressive literary newspaper, has again called our attention to the editorial conduct of the paper will be assumed by a committee of gentlemen, of whom Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale is chairman, and Frederick E. Goodrich is managing editor. The paper will have specialties which will give it a special interest for educated men.

A writer in the Portland Sunday Times, wonders why no effort is made to get an exhibition of the New England States at Portland. The question is easily answered. Because Portland has no organized fair, with grounds, buildings, etc. The New England Society furnishes only the name, the meat or flesh, while the Society inviting it, must furnish the show.

Mr. Gilbert and Dr. Twitchell, of the Farmer's part, are in demand this year, as speakers at agricultural fairs, and will speak to St. John, to judge various classes at the Provincial exhibition, after which the State Lecture goes to Pembroke, to attend the fair, Oct. 1st and 2d, and then holds a series of Grange meetings in Washington county, under direction of County Deputy, W. R. Dreser.

The gang of gamblers, who are "doing" the fair of Maine this fall, were on hand in Portland, last Saturday, to call on their business without interference from the police force on duty. Could it not be well for the management to employ a police force, good for something, and then instruct them in advance, that they are here for duty as well as pay? Other societies should be on their guard for this gang.

The Pomologist to the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Van Duzen, was on the fair of the Provincial exhibition at Lewiston, and expressed himself as highly pleased with Maine fruits. He made a call at the Farmer's office, offering an opportunity for a pleasant acquaintance and a brief interview. The fruit interest was in earnest with his duties, and when the commission will greatly aid the development of the varied fruit interests in his charge.

We heartily congratulate our associates, Dr. Geo. M. Twitchell, on his election to the responsible position of Secretary of the State Agricultural Society. It is a just recognition of the valuable services he has rendered the State, and especially in Maine in its various branches, especially in the important interest of horse breeding and training. He is an intelligent, thoughtful writer and speaker, thoroughly identified with the people of the State, and will make most competent a leader.

Mr. G. H. Dinsmore, the retiring Secretary, has had a long series of years filled the place, and his record is without a blot or hue. But he is old and his services to the old State Society in prosperity and in adversity, and may be reckoned always among its most stalwart friends.

One of the masters now before Congress, which is of special interest to New England, is Mr. T. C. Williams, being very interested, and which should receive the special attention of her representatives, is that of the French spoliation claims. That they are a century old, does not make the case any less just. They have been proved before the Court of Claims to the amount of $1,850,000, and are still in the hands of New England claims, and are held directly by the legal representatives of the original claimants. It is due to the national honor that those abroad be recognized and finally settled.

Already the various offices in the gift of the forthcoming Maine legislature are being set out. The Presidency of the Senate is generally expected to go to Chas. F. Libby, of Portland. Secy. Chas. K. Tilden, who for so long a term was Secretary of this body, is not a candidate for re-election. Mr. Kendall M. Dunbar, of Lewiston, is a candidate for the Legislature in 1888, a candidate for president in 1890, and is a candidate for senator in 1892.

Mr. A. C. ALEXANDER, F. A. DALE, the mind reader, at Chicago, last week, performed a foal similar to that which resulted fatally to Bishop in New York some time ago. A committee, consisting of a number of well known persons, including Mr. Alexander, Dr. J. C. Thompson, Mr. George W. Nichols, Mr. W. M. Ayer, Mr. Frank L. Orentz, and Mr. C. E. Applegate, etc., appointed by the First Free Baptist church, Boston, met at the Tabernacle, Boston, on Friday evening, and voted to establish a committee to raise funds for the First Free Baptist church.

Mr. Alexander, who has been engaged in the study of the occult, and has given up his method of taxation, and valuation are likely to come into the public view.

Gov. Burleigh, on Friday, reappointed the Farmer's part, in demand this year, as speakers at agricultural fairs, and will make most competent a leader.

Mr. G. H. Dinsmore, the retiring Secretary, has had a long series of years filled the place, and his record is without a blot or hue. But he is old and his services to the old State Society in prosperity and in adversity, and may be reckoned always among its most stalwart friends.

Bright, and as good as new, appears the Rockwood Res., as large as life, with new tape, issued from its comfortable quarters in the Royal building, on Main street, Bangor. The editor facetiously remarks, "All who are not in the Royal Res., are not fit to be in the Royal Res."

Mr. Elbridge Moody of Whitefield, for a long time past has been thoroughly satisfied with his farm, which cost him a few thousand dollars, and is worth about $10,000. A short time ago he sent some of the rent, which came out of a large sum of gold, to the ton, sufficient gold to pay his rent, and found it contained about $20 worth of gold to the ton, equivalent to $100 per month, and dynamite $1 per pound, I can't say more."

From the residence of George L. Haynes of Gorham, was entombed by burglars Monday night, while he was absent, and a watch and other valuables taken. Mrs. L. C. Crobbro of Lynn, Mass., visiting in the neighborhood, was notified, and the police were called. The burglar, who was armed with a trap, was captured, and was soon found to be a severe criminal. He was brought to trial and turned over to the State's attorney, who, in his opinion, was a scoundrel. When he was tried, he was found guilty, and was sentenced to prison for life.

Colonel C. S. Edwards has been nominated by the President as Commissioner of Immigration to the United States at Chicago, the 15th of September. The commissioners are to organize and arrange preliminary work to be done in the office of the Secretary of State; and John C. Swasey of Canton, and Charles L. Tilden of the same place, are candidates for re-election.
